TO-DAY being the anniversary of the independence of Mexico, it may not be out of place to state that the modern history of that country must be confusing. It seems that there have been fifty-four presidents, one regency, and one emperor in fifty-six years, and a violent change of government with nearly every one.

A CHINAMAN went to pay his taxes yesterday afternoon. Quite a little ceremony took place in the rear of the Collector's office before he could get at his money. He first took off his coat, and from his loins unwrapped what proved to be a long narrow bag, perhaps about 9 feet long. After five minutes' hard work he got to that part of the bag where the money was, rolled the bag up, and retired into the building, not knowing his operations had been watched.

A BAD BREAK.

"Do you play very much now-a-days, Miss Smith?" he asked, as they seated themselves after a waltz. "Only occasionally," she replied. "I have neglected my music shamefully of late, and am getting quite out of practice."

"I was passing your house, last evening," he went on, "and stood at the gate for a moment to hear you play. Instead of getting out of practice, I think you are improving, if any improvement is possible," he added politely.

"Last evening?" she asked. "Yes; about 9 o'clock." "You are mistaken. I was at the opera last evening," she said, in a strained voice, as she accepted an invitation to dance from another gentleman. "It was the man tuning the piano you heard."
